Martin Ends "Wildcat" Strike

"Paid agents" were blamed today for the unauthorized sit-down strike at the Pontiac plant of the Fisher Body company. After a dramatic appeal by Homer Martin, international president of the United Automobile Workers, the strikers, who previously defied union officials' efforts to evacuate the plant, yesterday abandoned the sit-down and marched outside. The workers had gone on strike in protest of the dismissal of four of their number. Shown in the above photo is Martin, at right, with Leonard Netzorg, U. A. W. attorney, and the latter's secretary, Vivian Fox, just as the strike ended.

Bishop Leaves Wealth to Communism

BROWN'S WILL SETS UP FUND TO AID PARTY

Document, Filed at Bucyrus, Provides For Corporation to Further Communism.

HEARING SET FOR MONDAY

Two Former Mansfield Women Among Beneficiaries of Deposed Churchman.

(News-Journal Special)

GALION — Bishop William Montgomery Brown, whose Communistic tendencies in life caused him to be deposed by his church as a heretic, in death has set up a corporation for the furtherance of communism.

The bishop's will, an unusual document, was filed in probate court at Bucyrus yesterday afternoon. It makes a number of specific bequests, and then provides that the residuary estate be used to establish a "corporation for the furtherance of communism as propagated by Karl Marx." The corporation is to be administered by trustees, who are instructed by the will to devote all or any part of the residuary estate to "the interests of Communism and the Communist party."

Names Two Executors.

The will names as trustees and executors Clara B. Manzer, who was for years secretary to the late bishop who died at Brownella cottage here Oct. 31, and Edward Bushnell, a Cleveland attorney. A hearing on the will is scheduled for next Monday before Probate Judge Constance Keller at Bucyrus, who has indicated that it must undergo court interpretation because of two codicils who revoke and increase several specific bequests.

The will was dated Oct. 29, 1935, and two codicils were added the following year, one on June 17 and the second on July 21. The former bishop specified that anyone filing action against the will would be automatically cut off from any benefits.

Value of Estate Unknown.

Mrs. Manzer was unable to determine today the amount of the estate that would be available for furthering the interests of Communism. No inventory of the estate has been filed as yet with probate court.

The former bishop, who was deposed in 1925 and sought unsuccessfully thereafter to be reinstated, was said to have become wealthy through the sale of his books, one of the outstand-

Father Sentenced In Death of Son

Shelby Man Gets 1 to 20 Years on Charge of Manslaughter.

ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

Wade Sent to Ohio Pen as Result of Fatal Auto Crash.

Pleading guilty to an indictment for second degree manslaughter in the traffic death of his 18-year-old son several months ago, Pose Wade, 42, of Shelby was sentenced to one to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary late yesterday by Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston.

Wade's son, Woodrow, died of a skull fracture after the car in which he was riding with his father and brother turned over on route 39 near Shelby. The younger son, Wilbur, 16, who was uninjured, contended that Wade had threatened the lives of the boys before the accident and had a gun in the car Sept. 4 when the mishap occurred.

Found Sane by Doctors.

Indicted by the grand jury three weeks ago, Wade was given a sanity test by three Mansfield physicians who found him sane. When arraigned last week, Wade pleaded innocent to the indictment, telling the court that he could remember nothing of the accident.

The indictment charged that Wade was intoxicated at the time of the accident. Injured in the crash, he was confined to the Shelby hospital for several weeks.

Says He Can't Remember.

Represented by Atty. Joseph A. Bayer when he appeared before Judge Huston, Wade repeated his statement that he "couldn't remember anything about the accident," despite his formal plea of guilty.

Before passing sentence on Wade, Judge Huston said: "I had hoped it would be possible for the court to send you to the Lima hospital for treatment, but the verdict of the examining board makes the penitentiary sentence imperative."

CALLS MEETING FOR NEW STUDY OF DELINQUENCY

Bates Summons City, County Officials to Decide on Definite Program.

A definite program for combatting juvenile delinquency will be the goal of a group of city and county officers and representatives of Mansfield organizations concerned with the problem when they meet Nov. 30 at the city building, Probate Judge C. J. Anderson said today.

The meeting, called by Chief of Police Meade K. Bates, will be devoted to a discussion of means for dealing with the growing juvenile problem, Judge Anderson said, and may see the group go on record as favoring a change in the state liquor set-up.

Blame Commission.

At a previous meeting of the same group, blame for the increasing number of juvenile cases was placed with the state liquor commission for its method of issuing permits without regard for the reliability of applicants.

Judge Anderson said he would present a plan to the group at Tuesday's meeting for dealing with the local problem, which would include a more thorough recreation program in the city and a closer watch on the liquor establishments under suspicion of selling to minors.

County commissioners, who have under consideration a plan for adding two juvenile officers to the county staff, have been invited to sit in on the session.

Commissioners protested the use of county funds for the two officers, in view of the fact that revenue from liquor permits goes to the city where most of the alleged sales to minors occur.

Commissioners also favored a check on the issuing of permits by the state, and are expected to join in the movement for a revision of the state liquor distribution system.

If the resolution is adopted by the group, it will give support to County Prosecutor Glenn W. Marriott's plan for a stricter policy in the sale of permits to restaurant and tavern operators.

FROZEN SOD PINS VICTIM AT BELLVILLE

Shelby Man Struck on Throat, Choked to Death, While Digging In Ditch.

80 AT WORK ON PROJECT

Fellow Employes Smash Sod to Remove Body; Father of 4 Was Alone at Time.

A WPA worker identified as Hugh H. Call, about 45, of Shelby was killed almost instantly shortly before noon while working on a Bellville WPA project.

Call, digging in a ditch on the Bellville sewage plant project, on Bell street, was struck by a huge chunk of frozen sod that slipped off the west bank of the ditch.

Cuts Off Breath.

The sod, estimated to weigh several hundred pounds, pinned Call against the side of the ditch, and death was attributed to the fact that a projecting corner of the chunk struck him in the throat, cutting off his breath and causing him to choke to death.

About 80 workers were employed on the project, it was reported, but Call was working alone at the point where the chunk of sod fell.

Co-workers tried desperately to move the sod, but had to smash it into smaller pieces before they could move it.

Call was lifted from the ditch and first aid measures attempted, but it was believed he was dead by the time the workers got to him.

Pinned Againstt Wall.

L. E. Berno, Mansfield, who was also working on the project, witnessed the cave-in. He said a chunk of sod and dirt about 18 inches wide, six feet long and five feet deep suddenly broke loose and pinned Call against the wall.

The WPA foreman in charge of the project declined to give his name. He said he was not on the Bell street part of the job when the accident happened.

WPA officials were investigating this afternoon to ascertain what caused the section of dirt to fall.

Call's body was removed to the Shafer funeral home.

WPA supervisors on the job said they believed Call was the father of four children, and that his wife was ill. He was also believed to have been a war veteran and member of the V.F.W.

'Paid Agents' Blamed In Auto Union Revolt

U. A. W. Launches Inquiry Into Claims Rival Labor Group Sought To Increase Membership Through 'Wildcat' Sit-Down At Fisher Body Plant.

DETROIT—(AP)—Charges that "paid provocateurs" acted in the Pontiac, Mich., wildcat strike were voiced today as steps were taken to make the newest peace in the automobile labor field a lasting one.

Unidentified outside interests seeking to drum up business for labor spy organizations were blamed.

The United Automobile Workers of America, whose international leaders succeeded in halting the unauthorized strike at the Fisher body plant of General Motors corporation yesterday, promised an investigation of the charges.

Work On New Pact.

Aids of Homer Martin, union president, said the inquiry will be carried out along with the UAWA's preparations for a grievance hearing next Monday and renewed efforts to negotiate another agreement with General Motors.

The hearing, before Willard E. Hotchkiss of Chicago as arbitrator, will carry hopes that a permanently peaceful means for adjusting disputes will be arrived at, union officials said.

The charges that "agents provocateurs" had "instigated" the Fisher strike came from Walter Reuther, member of the union's international executive board. Three men were reported "under suspicion," and Francis Hansen, administrative assistant to Martin, said the union will "investigate each one" as well as "a good many" other suspected "stool pigeons."

The Detroit News quoted an unidentified union official as saying the strike "was started by paid provocateurs" employed "by some labor spy organization which wasn't getting any business because of the orderly manner in which our grievance procedure was beginning to work."

"We knew the actual leader of the strike was sincere but felt all along that he was being pushed by someone else," he said.

DOWN TO 11!

Mercury Nose-Dives During Night; Relief Due.

There was welcome news in the weather forecast today—it's due to get warmer.

An there wasn't any question about that being welcome—especially in view of the fact that temperatures dropped to 11 above zero, the lowest mark of the fall, last night. At 10 a. m., the mercury had climbed only to 26, and at noon stood at 32.

Tonight, says the forecast, will be fair. Tomorrow will be cloudy and warmer. There may be some rain or snow Thursday, but the temperatures generally are expected to be above the present level.

The 24-hour average was 20.5, about 18 degrees below normal for this time of the year.

Star Performer Stricken, But Circus Goes On; 1,500 See It

With one of its star performers, Rita De LaPlata, confined in General hospital, the Great Eastern circus opened a week's stand last night at the Coliseum under the sponsorship of Baku Grotto before a crowd of 1,500.

Miss LaPlata, aerial artist, suffered an attack of appendicitis at her hotel at 6 p. m., two hours before the show opened, and was taken to General hospital.

Hoot Gibson, cowboy movie actor, and a veteran of the circus world, held the spotlight during the evening. Gibson makes two appearances during the main show, and is the star of the after show concert.

Among the outstanding performers appearing with the circus are Harold Barnes, 16-year-old juvenile high wire star; the Flying Illingtons, five of America's foremost aerial performers on the flying trapeze; Miss Juanita Hobson, an outstanding bareback rider, Capt. John Smith, and his liberty horses, and the Hobsons, bareback riding act.

Miss Julia Rogers, niece of the late Will Rogers, appearing with the circus as a singer, accompanied the band for several of the aerial acts.

Preceding the main show Mayor Earl A. McFarland, and four Grotto officials were introduced to the opening night crowd. Officials of the Grotto are W. G. McCready, monarch, Arthur L. Croak, master of ceremonies, Frank J. May, general chairman and Ralph Hughes, chief justice.

The circus will appear at the Coliseum every night this week through next Sunday. Both afternoon and evening performances will be given. Tonight will be Westinghouse night and tomorrow has been set aside as Mansfield Tire night.

Remy Walk-Paving Puzzle Fails to Gain on 'Lateral'

Pardon the Football Terms, But Play Looks Like Berg to Wolfe to Council—Who's Got the Ball?

The pole vault-or-high jump Remy avenue sidewalk and paving problem had developed today into a lateral pass play, if you don't mind the mixture of sports terms.

Councilman George Berg of the Sixth ward, in whose bailiwick the problem developed, said it was up to Service-Safety Director Philip Wolfe to straighten the thing out, and that he wouldn't present the question to council.

Powerless to Act.

But Wolfe said he was powerless to act on the situation, unless council appropriates money to remedy things.

Which made the play sound like Berg to Wolfe to council.

So intricate was this bit of "razzle-dazzle" that it was impossible to ascertain just who was carrying the ball at the present moment.

The problem concerns the difference in elevation of the paving and sidewalk on a one-block stretch of Remy avenue. The sidewalks were laid last year, and this year the contract for concrete curbing and crushed stone center surfacing was started. When Contractor R. O Darling excavated the street to the established grade, it left the sidewalk anywhere from 18 inches to three feet higher than the curbing, and it left residents on the street with a problem of how to get cars into driveways and a lot of things like that.

Wolfe denied today that he had refused to talk about the Remy avenue sidewalk and paving problem with Councilman Berg, who has been hearing a lot of complaints from Remy avenue residents. Wolfe said he had talked the question over with Berg and

2 Set Free as O. S. R. Lacks Funds To Send For Fugitives

Two fugitives from the Mansfield reformatory held by Nebraska authorities were to be released today because the reformatory doesn't have the funds to return them to the institution.

The fugitives are Harry Haas, 26, and Clyde Barney, 23, who escaped from the Grafton honor camp on Oct. 10. Police at Alliance, Neb., arrested the pair on suspicion and were holding them for investigation when it was found that they were escaped inmates.

Haas was received at the reformatory on Oct. 10, 1929, from Montgomery county for auto theft and was under sentence from one to 10 years. He was twice paroled and was returned to the institution in January, 1936. Barney was received at the institution in Feb. 12, 1935, from Montgomery county and was under sentence from 10 to 25 years for robbery.

Supt. Arthur L. Glattke of the reformatory, said that while fugitives captured within the state or in nearby states were returned by guards, there were no funds available to send to Nebraska for the return of the two held there.

Nebraska authorities said today that they had asked for the release of the men after they had learned that the reformatory could not afford to send for them, Associated Press dispatches reported.

Japanese Advance Troops Open Up Route to Nanking

CHINESE FORM NEW CAPITAL DEFENSE LINE

Nippon's Army Reaches Point 100 Miles From Nanking, Vacated by Government.

SHANGHAI — (U.P.) — Japanese advance units, crushing all Chinese opposition, were reported today to have swept past Wusih, approximately 100 miles from Nanking.

A Japanese army official reported the Chinese were being pushed back at a point approximately five miles east of Wusih, key point of Chinese defenses between the Yangtse river and Lake Tai. It is about 70 miles from Shanghai.

Delayed by Rains.

Heavy rains in the area, the official reported, had held up the Japanese advance to a certain extent.

There were no official reports that Wusih had been captured. Japanese authorities claimed its fall would mean the collapse of the strong Chinese Wusih-Kiangyin defense lines, the last sizeable obstacle confronting the Japanese before Nanking.

Reports from Nanking said the Chinese were making preparations for a last stand defense of the evacuated capital Thousands of Chinese troops were pouring into the city and taking over the homes of residents who had fled

Japanese authorities indicated that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had not replied to a "personal message" advising him to surrender, which a Japanese plane dropped over Nanking yesterday.

U. S. Embassy Closed.

United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson and other foreign ambassadors and nationals officially abandoned Nanking today and proceeded aboard gunboats up the Yangtse river toward Hankow. Johnson planned to make several stops en route to Hankow and urge Americans between that point and Nanking to join him aboard the gunboat Luzon.

In Shanghai the state lottery was tranferred to Hankow in compliance with the Japanese demands that Chinese organizations leave the international settlement and the French concession.

"Two years ago," Lutz says, "all the animals were fat—and look what happened. It was one of the coldest winters on record."

G. O. P. ENDORSES WILLIAMS FOR THIRD TERM ON ELECTION BOARD

With the endorsement of George Williams, Republican, of Shelby for re-appointment to the county board of elections, there appeared little likelihood today that 1938 will see any change in the board personnel.

Williams' candidacy for a third term has been given the unanimous approval of the Richland County Republican executive committee and needs only the routine final approval of the secretary of state. His present term expires March 31.

The Democratic committee, which will consider applications for the other vacancy on the board at a meeting at the courthouse Saturday afternoon, is expected to endorse Fred Bricker of Jackson township, who is said to be seeking a second term.

Democratic Chairman E. B. Kallmerten, who called Saturday's meeting, declined to comment on the possible endorsement of Bricker except to say that "it is only natural for him (Bricker) to want a second term on the board." Bricker's term also expires March 31.

Kallmerten said he know of no other applications for appointment to Bricker's post.

Terms of the other members of the election board run to March, 1940. They are George C Balliet and W. M. Ferguson, both of Mansfield. The terms are for four years.

A. F. Porter, clerk, and Walter Underwood, deputy clerk, are appointed by the board.

Trial To End Today In Police Slaying At Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD—(U.P.)—The first degree murder case against Henry Dingledine, 27, accused of participating in a gun fight on Sept. 3 in which two officers were slain, was expected to go to the jury late today.

The defense completed its case in less than a day. Closing arguments were scheduled this morning.

Dingledine was the chief witness in his own defense Monday. He testified that he participated in a holdup here but denied that he took part in the gun battle at Crystal lake a short time later in which Patrolman Martin Randolph, Deputy Sheriff Edward Furry and Robert Cornette, a bandit, were killed.

JAIL 6 SPIES ON FRENCH BORDER

Undercover Workers Confess to Giving Information on Forts to Germany.

PARIS—(U.P.)—The arrest of six spies on the northeastern frontier near France's famous Maginot line of defenses was linked by authorities today with the alleged plot of the mysterious Cagoulards (hooded ones) to overthrow the popular front government.

The spies confessed they gave information concerning fortifications and troops on the French side of the River Rhine to Nazi agents in Freiburg, Germany.

The alleged leader of the spy ring, a German named Dengler, was arrested at Huningue just as he was about to flee across the frontier Two of those arrested were seized at a meeting of Colonel Francois De La Rocque's French Social party which reportedly is an outgrowth of the outlawed fascist organization, Croix de Feu (cross of fire). The spies belonged to a group from which the Cagoulards had acquired many members.

The six spies were locked up in the military prison at Besancon. The arrests followed months of shadowing by agents of the surete nationale of numerous spies investigating the strength and disposition of French military defenses along the Rhine.

LEADERS SEEK TO BREAK SNAG IN COMMITTEE

Petitions Being Circulated In 'Pressure' Campaign to Speed Action.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — House leaders prepared today, despite opposition by President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, for a pressure drive to break the rules committee bottle-neck which has held up the administration's wage-hour bill.

An ultimatum to the rules group, whose 10 to 4 vote pigeon-holed the bill last session, was due to expire before the house met and the southern Democratic - Republican coalition showed no signs of wavering

Lacking a reversal which would bring the controversial measure to the floor in the usual fashion, Majority Leader Sam Rayburn was expected to announce formally his signature on a petition to discharge the committee, which would have the same effect but would limit debate.

Majority Required.

That petition requires 218 signatures—a majority of the house When the house met at noon there were only 153 names on it Rayburn, however, was understood to have about 40 members ready to follow him in signing their names on the petition. This would leave only about 25 votes to be corralled by the administration.

Green's overnight declaration against the bill made some leaders pessimistic over the success of their strategy. The federation president, in a letter to Chairman Mary T Norton, D., N. J., of the house labor committee, refused to endorse the bill in its present form, and demanded that it be sent back for changes.

Previously Chairman John L. Lewis of the Committee for Industrial Organization and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins urged early passage.

Green stated:

1. That the federation would not endorse the bill until it had been amended "to preserve its fundamental objectives, without possibility of distortion"

2. That the federation was forced to qualify its position of last August supporting the measure because of "recent experiences" with the National Labor Relations board. He referred to the A. F. of L conviction that the board has proved to be pro-CIO.

The Great Game of Politics

—By FRANK R. KENT

Caught In The Middle.

WITH THE report of the senate committee, the new proposal for crop control confusedly takes the place of the so-called anti-lynching bill, which, for a solid week has held the attention of the senate to the exclusion of all else. However, the latter is only temporarily relegated to the rear, not by any means disposed of. Soon or late this session it will return for final action. There is slight doubt that in the end it will pass because behind it is the covert but none the less solid weight of the administration This, coupled with Republican support, is enough to enact the bill over the desperate opposition of the southern Democrats At least, so it is generally believed.

FROM THE political standpoint, this measure is probably the most pregnant of any which will be considered this session. Despite the humanitarian professions of its champions, everybody knows that the driving power of the fight for it is generated by the great colored vote in the big debatable states north of the Mason and Dixon line and stretching from Connecticut to Michigan. This is true of Republicans as it is of Democrats and it is time the truth were told about it. Everybody is opposed to lynching. No one defends it and no decent man, in politics or out, condones it. But this bill does not make lynching any more of a crime than it is now and will not diminish the number of lynchings. What it does is give the federal government power to investigate the conduct of county officials in the prosecution of lynchings and if deemed inadequate to impose prison penalties and fines not only upon individuals, but upon the local government unit.

WHOLLY ASIDE from the question of lynching, it is easy to see how intensely offensive a proposal of this sort is to southern Democrats or, in fact, to Democrats of any section who still believe in the sovereignty of the states and oppose the imposition upon them of the federal authority. Clearly, if the federal government can go into the states to examine their conduct of criminal proceedings, it can go into them to examine their conduct of elections, which unquestionably would be the next step Southern Democrats see in this proposal another force bill and the thing that stirs their indignation to white heat is that it should be a Democratic administration, not a Republican one, to supply the votes by which the bill will go through—if it does ACTUALLY, Mr. Roosevelt and his political strategists are in an unhappy position about this proposal. Last year they very successfully played both ends against the middle. By a skillful and carefully planned campaign, aided by relief money and federal patronage, they succeeded in taking away from the Republican party its basic asset—to wit, some two million colored votes in a dozen big debatable states. At the same time they held in line the solid South, where the colored man does not vote and which is solidly Democratic largely because of racial prejudice. Among the New Deal politicians this was regarded as a very smart piece of politics, indeed. And so it seemed, though at the time there was considerable smoldering resentment among Southern Democrats who knew what was being done.

NOW, HOWEVER, the price has got to be paid. The anti-lynching bill must have administration support to pass. Should it fail, the Republicans in the next campaign will be given exactly the argument they need to recapture the colored vote. They will charge—and justly—that the administration took their votes and then "sold them out." The colored newspapers all over the country which supported Mr. Roosevelt in 1936 look to him now to pass this bill. They unquestionably will blame him if it fails. Politicians like Mr. Farley and Senator Guffey, who had so much to do with endearing Mr. Roosevelt to the colored people, are intensely anxious to hold them. Better than anyone else they know how much their victory was due to that vote.

ON THE OTHER HAND, if the bill is forced through, it will widen and deepen the Democratic split. However furtively it is done, southern senators will know that the bill could not have been passed but for the Roosevelt-Farley organization. It will intensify feeling against the president, justify southern opposition to his policies and greatly diminish his 1940 chances either of renominating himself or picking his successor. When the bill comes up again, and the imminence of its passage contributes to the emotional strain, some of these facts are bound to come out on the floor. The situation in which the White House politicians find themselves is the inevitable result of being too slick. They are now caught in the middle, where instead of getting support from both sides they may alienate both.

Future May Be Brighter For Girl

By VIRGINIA LEE

THERE ARE times in everyone's life when things seem pretty hopeless. There seems just no way out of our trouble, and no chance for a change for the better.

It is surprising, however, how skies do lighten, and our future changes. It is the hope of this that keeps us going during the dark times, and makes them durable.

This is the only answer I can make to Sincerely Yours, who signs no name to her letter but asks my help. She is 17 and lives at home with her parents, who are very cruel to her. She is a senior in high school.

My advice to you is to bear your burdens until you graduate from school, and then you will obtain work, I imagine, and you need not stay at home if your people really are as cruel as you say. You are fortunate to be sent to school. When one person in a family is "picked on", as they say, it is always a good idea to check up on them and see if they really are at fault, or if there is some other reason why they are not treated as well as others.

This is not doubting your story, but simply a suggestion that you should be sure you are not at fault before you condemn your parents for injustice — although nothing could excuse the cruelties of which you tell. You could apply to the Humane Society or the police for protection if you wished.

At any rate, look forward hopefully to the future, and resolve to do all in your power to deserve all good that will come to you.

Maybe if you can manage to cultivate a cheerful spirit you will not be so often the target of punishment. That sort of thing works both ways—cruelty makes a person downhearted, and a gloomy looking countenance makes some folk want to be unkind.

HELEN: No, your mother is right. It isn't the thing for a girl to buy a suit of clothes for her boy friend. If you are engaged and expect to be married, why don't you get him a piece of furniture, like a comfortable chair, a radio for your home, a small table, a set of books, or something like that? It would be much more appropriate.

Calm Poise Gives Women Great Charm

By GLADYS GLAD

"America's Most Famous Beauty"

ONE OF THE greatest love stories that I have ever read was that tale of the beautiful romance between frail Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning. Elizabeth, you know, was a weak, sickly individual, yet she won the love of the talented and handsome Robert Browning. And one of her grandest attributes was her perfect serenity and repose.

Of course, our modern beauties are living in a much more high-powered age than the gentle Elizabeth Barrett's time. But—and perhaps it's because of this —they are acquiring a lot of nervous but unnecessary habits that detract from their charm. Repose and serenity are two words that modern girls should study, for there's nothing quite so annoying as a girl who is continually twitching her hands, tapping her foot, wriggling about in her seat or drumming on things. Such a lack of serenity is not only disturbing to others, but betrays the girl's own lack of poise and self-confidence.

The serene, well-poised woman is always free from flutter. Because her hands do not wave or wiggle idly, when they do move they seem to contribute to her expressiveness. In contrast, the woman who fidgets and seems ill at ease cannot give expression to her feelings naturally. Her tension prevents her from exercising her powers. She acts fussed and uncomfortable. And she appears fussy to her associates. Her gestures lack charm and meaning because she herself lacks poise.

Learn to Relax.

If you are of this type, you can correct the conditions and increase your calmness and poise by learning to relax. Withdraw all nervous energy from your muscles. Let them lapse into quiescence.

If your hands are stiff and awkward, a few good limbering exercises will do them a world of good, too. The following are especially effective for making the hands limber and graceful:

Stand erect, elbows at the sides, hands extended forward. Then stretch the hands back toward the wrists as far as you can. Do not, in this exercise, use one hand to push the other hand back. Use those stiff wrists muscles of yours to do the work.

With each finger pointing straight ahead, describe circles in the air with first the thumb, then the forefinger, etc., until each finger has been exercised. Make the circles as large in circumference as possible.

Stand erect, arms extended forward. Then flay your hands loosely from the wrists. This exercise can also be done while you rotate your arms forward, upward, backward and down.

Marriage Meddlers

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

JIM PERMITTED himself a slow grin as I asked him if there weren't some less expensive way of putting an automobile temporarily out of commission other than snapping the spindle winds of the differential, which would entail a rear end job of days.

"Oh, sure, there are plenty of little things I could do—turn a screw of the distributor, take the condenser off the ignition — lots of things like that which would only take a minute or two. But, then, any small garage mechanic could fix it up again in half an hour, if he had the part handy; and in these times, the automobile showrooms carry almost everything in spare parts. I'll tell you what we could do, though, but it would cost about twenty dollars."

"Mr. Noel could stand that," I decided quickly, "and I'm sure he would be glad to pay it if he could be assured of a day longer with Miss Mary."

"He'd have that, all right," Jim responded. "It'll take a little longer to manage, but if I can have a half hour at the longest with the car after they get here, in a place where they won't know about it, I can turn the trick."

"I can guarantee to manage that in some way," I told him, "but I want you to tell me what you're planning. If it's possible, I must do it myself."

"But it ain't possible," Jim said stubbornly, "unless you take an awful chance of their finding out you're doing it on purpose. And you might not have any luck in the job, although"—Jim's slow grin showed again—"you've had a little practice now and then on any car you drive.

"What I'm planning to do," he went on, and I fairly held my breath for fear of interrupting him, "is to break the clutch by riding it. Once that's done the car can't move. It will have to be towed to a garage and have a clutch job. And that will take time, for, in these garages out here, there are not enough men to keep one all the time on a big job like that. They have to stop and see to other customers."

"I see," I said slowly. "And I'm going to accept your offer, Jim, for I can see it would be almost an impossibility for me to carry it off. Thank you so much for offering, and for what you've told me. Can you do this any time I arrange for you?"

Finds Dicky Asleep.

"Just give me five minutes notice," Jim said earnestly, "and I'll be right with you, any time —day or night."

"I'll remember that," I said gratefully, and went back to the house, where I found Dicky still asleep on the veranda. As I heard no sound from his mother's room, I concluded that her nap was not yet finished. Getting scissors, flower basket, gardening hat and gloves, I first made the round of the rooms and verandas, noting what containers needed fresh blossoms. Then I went out to my picking garden where I reveled in my best-loved vocation, gathering flowers.

I spent a busy and happy hour in flower arrangement, finishing with Mary's own room, to which I ruthlessly sacrificed some of my choicest tea roses, her favorite kind.

I was so absorbed in my labor of love that I did not hear my mother-in-law's footsteps in the hall, and when she spoke my name from the open doorway, I whirled in startled surprise. But before I had time to speak, she astonished me still further by coming over to me, after a comprehensive, searching glance around the room, and putting her arms around me in an impulsive fashion totally foreign to her.

"You blessed child," she said. "You robbed your rose garden for Mary. You are a wonderful daughter to me, Margaret, and I want you to know I appreciate it, if I am cantankerous at times."

HOROSCOPE

For Wednesday, Nov. 24.

According to the lunar as well as the mutual aspects, this day's prospects, while fair astrologically, may be enhanced by individual effort. The best possibilities will be in connection with mergers, rings or political or diplomatic circles. The mind may be in a restless of quixotic mood, but stick to routine anyhow.

If This Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year in which practically all profitable issues depend upon individual effort. And while planetary forces point to fair prospects with rings, mergers, politics, diplomacy or secret organizations, craft is likely to score above direct methods anywhere.

A child born on this day may have a rather peculiar nature, with impractical or visionary urges, and a restless and adventurous spirit that may possibly buckle down to write mystery or adventure stories.

Chop dates, add 3 tablespoons of hot water and stand 5 minutes. This softens dates to be used in cookies or cakes and makes them blend better with the rest of the ingredients.

Squares of cranberry jelly mixed with chopped celery and almonds make a good winter salad to serve on lettuce and top with mayonnaise —it blends well with fowl, roasts or fish.

If the outside of hot-water boiler becomes discolored it may be cleaned with a solution made of 10 cents' worth of oxalic acid (poison) and one quart of water. Apply with woolen cloth. Wear heavy gloves when using.

My Neighbor Says:

Brass beds may be successfully painted if given two coats of flat white inside paint then two coats of light or dark enamel, whichever is preferred. Let paint dry thoroughly before putting on enamel.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

A LOSER SUQEEZES

Ordinarily a squeeze play consists of laying down a winning trick upon which the hapless opponent is obliged to make a choice of discards in two or more suits, any of which will ruin his hand. The squeezer can be, on occasion, a trick which is lost to the partner of the squeezed man. Careful reading of the defender's holding sometimes furnishes an infallible index to such maneuvers.

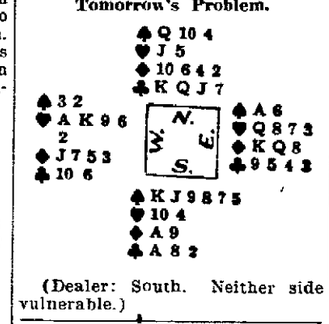
(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

North and South reached a contract of 6-No Trumps on this deal and West's opening lead was the spade Q. After winning this trick with the spade K, the declarer tried out the heart suit. He cashed the heart K and on the second lead West showed out, placing five hearts originally held by East. The heart Q won this trick and four club tricks were cashed, each opponent showing an original holding of three. It was therefore quite evident to South that East's hard consisted of five hearts, five diamonds and three clubs. The diamond A was cashed.

The declarer realized that East now held a guard in diamonds and hearts and figured that if he could squeeze one of those cards out of his hand, the contract could be made. His next play, therefore, was the spade 10, and when West covered with the J, South allowed it to hold. This placed East in an embarrassing position. It did not matter which card he tossed, as in any event South took the remainder of the tricks.

* * *

Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

With the heart K led against South's 4-Spades contract, what play by East insures the defeat of the contract?

HALLABRIN RATES BERTH ON ALL-OHIO

By OSCAR RUHL, News-Journal Sports Editor

NOW is the time for all sports writers to come to the aid of their potential All-Ohioans

Every school has at least one candidate, and Mansfield high school is no exception.

Hallabrin

Mansfield's No. 1 candidate for recognition on the All-Ohio scholastic eleven is Capt. John Hallabrin, who led the Tygers to a ranking position in the state football race this fall.

His feats on the gridiron are are rather well known, and if he does not win a berth on the scholastic eleven, it will not be because he did not establish himself as one of the outstanding schoolboy backs in Ohio.

Hallabrin was a triple-threat with few equals in the state. He was a fast, powerful and tricky ball carrier, a long and accurate passer and a dependable kicker In addition, he was a tower of strength on the defense and a heady field general.

The slippery Hallabrin averaged a fraction better than six yards on running plays, averaged a trifle less than 40 yards with his punts and completed 30 out of 73 passes.

Hallabrin scored 55 of the 126 Mansfield points, and was instrumental in virtually all of the other touchdowns that he did not carry across himself.

His coach, Russ Murphy, regards the 175-pound Hallabrin the equal of any back he ever handled.

Frank Fisch, Nick Weber, Bob Selby and Gene Brandon were other outstanding backs of recent Mansfield teams, but none was a threat like Hallabrin. Fisch and Weber, also a good punter, are remembered mostly for their passing ability, while Selby and Brandon were simply outstanding ball carriers.

Gained Total of 279 Yards From Scrimmage Against Strong Akron West Club.

A REVIEW of the records reveals the important part Hallabrin played in the Mansfield team's success.

Against Akron West, Hallabrin gained 279 yards from scrimmage, scored three touchdowns, kicked an extra point, completed one out of three passes and averaged 50 yards with his punts. He reeled off runs of 52, 35, 32, 17, 14, 13, 12 and 11 yards against the Cowboys.

Hallabrin gained 71 yards in 18 attempts in the Massillon game, scored the touchdown that enabled the Tygers to earn a tie, completed four out of seven passes and averaged 35 yards with eight punts. His longest run in this game was 24 yards, but returned an intercepted pass 45 yards through the entire Massillon team, and would have scored the game-winning touchdown had he not slipped to the turf on the 20 in the final seconds.

The Tyger captain accumulated 179 yards in the Erie, Pa., Strong Vincent tussle, completed seven out of 18 throws and punted for an average of 35 yards Although unable to score, Hallabrin accounted for runs of 41, 21, 18, 17, 15 and 14 yards.

Injured in the Erie game, Hallabrin took part in only one play in the Wooster game, which the Tygers won without his assistance. Sandusky limited the crippled Hallabrin to 48 yards, but he threw eight out of 15 pass completions, and averaged 38 yards with his boots His longest run in this game was 17 yards.

In the Shelby game, Hallabrin played only a half, but hung up 108 yards in 10 attempts, scored two touchdowns, kicked one extra point, threw for another and tossed two complete passes out of six. His runs included jaunts of 48, 16, 13 and 11 yards.

* * * * *

HALLABRIN was also spectacular in the Akron Kenmore game. He picked up 240 yards, tallied a couple of touchdowns, added a pair of points, completed one pass and punted for a 31-yard average, his worst of the season. He contributed runs of 64, 38, 32, 15 and 13 yards

The Western Reserve Freshmen held Hallabrin to his lowest scrimmage average of the season He gained only 49 yards in 22 plays, but kicked the field goal which returned the Tygers victors. His punts averaged 39 yards

In the final game with Ashland, Hallabrin gained 80 yards, but completed seven out of a dozen passes to figure prominently in the scoring. He crossed the goal line once on a 48-yard run, but was called back because of a penalty. Hallabrin averaged 38 yards with his kicking

Judging from these figures, Hallabrin was a pretty valuable man for Murphy to have handy, and no man is more sincere in his admission of this fact than the coach, either.

He's All-Ohio timber, Mansfield says

SUGGESTS BUTLER, HUGHES AND POST AS OFFICIALS FOR ROSE BOWL GAME

By HENRY McLEMORE

SAN FRANCISCO — (U.P.) — The original idea of the Rose Bowl game was to match the best team in the west with the strongest eleven of any other section of the country in the hope the outstanding football game of the year would be the result.

This year, however, there is a feeling that the California Bears, who will represent the west at Pasadena on New Year's day, are going to make a radical departure from the original plan. The Bears, one hears, plan to select a Rose Bowl opponent on an entirely new basis.

Football ability will be relatively unimportant. California seeks a foe whose ideals would make those of Sir Galahad appear as tawdry as a second story worker's; whose scholastic standards are so high that Einstein would have to take entrance examinations; and whose sportsmanship is so pronounced that they would put the fox on horseback and let him chese them. In California's own words, "We desire to meet a team from a school whose standards are the same as ours."

If the Bears find such a team to oppose them, the Rose Bowl game should be interesting to wotch. Everything, of necessity, will be a little different.

* * *

THE officials, of course, will be of the same high calibre as the teams. I suggest Nicholas Murray Butler for referee; The Archbishop of Canterbury as umpire; Chief Justice Hughes as field pudge, and Emily Post, for linesman.

I can visualize the kick-off and the first few minutes of play. Dr. Butler, wearing cap and gown and carrying a lyre instead of a whistle, would call the two captains to the center of the field and after a few brief words of instruction in Latin, the winner of the tossarum, would insist that the loser take first choice.

Then the 22 Phi Beta Kappas with a great show of fine fellowships laughingly would take their places on the field. The kick off would be ignored because with the roar of the crowd the 22 scholars would whip out their notebook to record their observation of mob psychology. Justice Hughes would dissent and the game would go on.

The first huddle would take 45 minutes because one of the learned group would be bound to ask some provocative quetsion concerning Elizabethan drama or Da Vinci as the world's greatest mind. This, naturally, would result in an informal discussion group.

During the delayed huddle, the opponents would break into small groups. Some would debate, some would hold spelling bees, some would utilize the time in writing to their mothers, enclosing report cards.

* * *

FINALLY the game would be resumed with the thoughtful quarterbacks calling only for those plays which would send the bal learriers through positions defended by men majoring in the same subjects as they. This would provide for spirited little discussions on familiar subjects as the players untangled themselves.

'After the game the players would all go to the public library and break training by reading esquire.

FARMER BOY WINS BOUT

Stratton Throws Achieu In Headline Match on Armory Mat Bill.

WALTER STRATTON, the Leetonia ,O., farmer, rode roughshod over the comical Walter "Sneeze" Achieu, of Honolulu, to win the first and last falls of the headline match of the weekly Quality club wrestling program in the Armory last night.

While Achieu supplied the comedy relief, Stratton applied a series of scientific grips to win the first fall in 18 minutes with the "surf board" hold Achieu turned off the comedy long enough to win the second fall with the flying leglock in 10 minutes.

The deciding stanza went to Stratton in about 9 minutes after Achieu had resorted to his hilarious antics which gave the good-sized crowd some welcome relief from the routine of the ordinary brand of grunting. Stratton, who by eliminating Achieu in the light-heavyweight tourney being staged by the Quality club, gained another notch in his climb to the top of this division. The deciding fall was won by Stratton after a series of airplane spins and body slams.

Bobby Blake, another lightheavy near the top in his division, was too tough for Pete Sherman of Kansas City, and won the semi-final elimination bout in straight falls. The first in 15 minutes when both wrestlers became so entangled in double, triple and quadruple leglocks that it took the assistance of the ringside customers to "untie" them Blake "slammed" out the deciding fall in less than 8 minutes after bouncing Sherman around like a rubber ball, finally pinning him with a "smother" Blake, by far the cleverest matman to appear here this winter, will go far in this elimination tourney, we predict.

"Cowboy" Jack Purdin, of Tombstone, Ariz., and Lee Yat Wing, a clever Chinese lad rounded out the well-balanced light-heavy show by wrestling to a 20-minute draw.—By Carl Graham.

BUCYRUS BOY, KABEALO TO LEAD BUCKS IN '38

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—Following a pattern cut out a year ago, Ohio State gridders today had named co-captains to lead the 1938 Buck football team an ddivided the honor between a lineman and a backfield man.

At the annual "Appreciation dinner" last night, Carl Kaplanoff, bulky Bucyrus boy who was named to a tackle position on the U-P All Big Ten team this season; and Mike Kabealo, versatile Youngstown star, were selected as co-captains of next year's team.

Players awarded varsity monograms were Kaplanoff and Jim Miller of Shelby. Freshmen numerals were awarded to a group including Jim Langhurst of Willard, Charles Maag of Sandusky and Don Scott of Canton.

Sets Record In C League

Geiger of the Levering Dairys established a new season individual scoring record in the Commercial C league at the Meder alleys last night with a 631 score. He opened his string with a 238. Geiger's total betters the old mark of 610 hung up of W. Mabee of the Tappan Stoves. The Stovemen paced the team scoring with a 2522.

Return of Seven Lettermen Fails to Hike Court Hopes

Only Two of Returning Mansfield Letter Winners Saw Little Service Last Winner; Tygers Open With Kenmore, Dec. 3.

COACH Russ Murphy and his assistant, Harry Mehock, started talking seriously in terms of basketball today.

The football campaign came to a close Saturday, and without time to take even a deep breath, the Mansfield high school coaches jumped into their annual job of building a cage club.

Whether the court team will fare as successfully as the football eleven remains to be seen. The squad as a whole lacks experience, but it possesses promise.

However, it is doubtful whether the team will develop into a regular winner this season.

Gridders Join Squad.

Basketball candidates not members of the football squad have been working out for several weeks, and they were joined yesterday by the gridsters.

Although the squad includes seven lettermen, the only two who saw any amount of varsity service are John Hallabrin and Freddy Lewis. The other lettermen saw only occasional action in substitute roles last winter.

The lettermen, in addition to Hallabrin and Lewis, are Jack Lyons, Tom Scott, Dave Shelly, Haroly Gallagher and Elmer Dials. Members of last season's reserve club who show promise are Gene Rudolph, Rich Nagle, Jack Dugger, Bill Harmony, Ike Smith and Don Finefrock.

Needs Replacements.

Murphy's big job this season is to find replacements for Russ Hoff, Ed Chatlain and Noel Morgan, mainstays of the 1936-37 squad, which hung up a record of something like nine straight victories before bowing out of the district tournament in Sandusky.

Having confined all of his interest to football in recent weeks, Murphy has no idea as to how the squad will line up this season.

Of course, the lettermen will get the first call for regular berths, but none can afford to loaf on the job as there are from four to five players fighting for recognition.

The forwards from whom Murphy will select two starters include Lewis, Scott, Shelly and Rudolph. The guards are Lyons, Hallabrin, Nagle, Smith and Finefrock, while Dials, Gallagher, Dugger and Harmony are the leading contenders for the pivot assignment.

Open With Kenmore.

The Tyger cagemen open their season a week from next Friday night with Akron Kenmore on the Mansfield court. Other December games will pit the Tygers against Columbus South, Shelby, Canton McKinley and Erie, Pa., East.

The only former N. C. O. conference rivals remaining on the Mansfield schedule are Ashland and Shelby. The Tygers will play home-and-home games with these two teams. The other games on the schedule are single affairs.

Eleven games have been arranged for the Tygers by Earl Mann, faculty manager of athletics, but one or two more may be added later, he said today.

The schedule follows:

Dec 6, Akron Kenmore; Dec. 10, Columbus South; Dec 18, at Shelby; Dec 22, at Canton McKinley; Dec. 29, Erie, Pa., East; Jan. 7, Parma; Jan. 14, Ashland; Jan 15, Shelby; Feb 4, Akron West. Feb. 8, at Ashland. Feb. 12, Columbus East.

AMERICAN LEGION CLUB LEADS LEAGUE SCORING

THE American Legion entry accounted for most of the large scores in the Club league at the Meder alleys last night, but the Liederkranz club remains in first place

The Legionnaires pounded out a 2737 total to set the team's scoring pace, but a 93-pin handicap a game enabled the Liederkranz to take two tilts to remain in the van.

Thull Legion anchor man, set the individual pace with a 636 total which included a middle game of 235.

The Optimists, led by Hilborn's 617 swept their series with the Gas Meters to move within a game of first place The Baku Grotto paced by Hursh's 616 took two games from the Mansfield Savings bank to hold third place

In the other matches the Schoolmasters won two games from the Kiwanians, the Eagles took a pair of tilts from the Managers' club and the Tracy & Avery club added two wins at the expense of the Public Parks.

Bishop Brown's Will Sets Up Corporation to Further Karl Marx Teachings.

ing volumes of which was "Christianity and Communism."

Two former Mansfield women, the Misses Hermine and Johanna Gottas, were named as beneficiaries in the will. Miss Hermine Gottas, who formerly resided at 66 Harter avenue, but now is in Illinois, was the bishop's nurse for a period of three years, until 1936. She is to receive $1,000. Miss Johanna Gottas, who is to receive $500, cared for the bishop's wife, Ella Bradford Brown, for a year prior to her death in 1918.

Both are now in Elgin, Ill.

The terms of the will also set up $5,999 or less for the printing and circulation of the bishop's books, and provide that $10,000 be spent for the construction of a mausoleum to contain the bodies of the Bishop and Mrs. Brown.

Other individual bequests included: $1,000 to Emma L. Airhart, Canton, and $200 a month for life each to Clara B. Manzer, the biship's secretary; Emma L. Murr, wife of Dr. P. A. Murr, and Lydia Marcus Trautman, all of Galion.

had given him figures on what it would cost to relay the sidewalks at the proper grade.

"Darling, the contractor, has estimated that it would cost approximately $550 to set the walks at the proper grade, and at the curb." Wolfe said today, "but before the work can be done, council will have to appropriate the money."

Says Problem Up to Wolfe.

The walks are now about two feet back from the curb, Wolfe explained, adding that if they were set at the curb when—and if—they are re-laid, residents would have a couple feet more room to terrace their lawns down to the curb.

Berg had charged that he failed to get "any satisfaction" when he discussed the sidewalk problem with Wolfe.

He reiterated today that he would not present the case to the attention of council, insisting that it was the job of the service director to remedy the situation. Berg is chairman of council's street committee.

If council can find funds containing a balance and transfers enough to re-lay the walks, the work can be undertaken, Wolfe said. He said that council had allocated, early this year, $2,900 for the purchase of a stone crusher which had never been bought, and that council could transfer from that appropriation if it desired.

APPROVES PLAN

House Group OK's Revision of Corporate Taxes.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A house tax sub-committee tentatively approved today complete revision of the corporate tax system. It would involve repeal of the undistributed profits levy for all corporations with incomes up to $25,000 and retention on a modified basis for those with larger incomes.

The new plan, Chairman Vinson (D-Ky) said, will be "particularly helpful to the hardship cases—corporations needing money for the purpose of debt payment, plant extension, to repair capital structure, and the like."

The new plan would impose on corporations with incomes up to $25,000 an income tax of 12½ per cent on the first $5,000 of earnings and of 14 per cent on earnings of $5,000 to $25,000.

Corporations with incomes of $25,000, Vinson said, would pay a tax graduated from 16 to 20 per cent.

Geoffrey Dennis' recent book, "Coronation Commentary," regarding the Duke of Windsor, has been an expensive piece of literature for him. The duke filed a libel suit. Now the duke has gained a "handsome sum" in settlement of his action against the writer and the publisher of the book. And Lord Chief Justice Hewart, at the hearing in London, gave Dennis a blistering tongue-lashing in lieu of what the judge hinted "should have been a horsewhipping."

Be Extra Careful about STUBBORN COLDS
Relieve Their Misery this PROVED Way

TOO often, the cold that "hangs on" is a result of neglect . . . and neglect is always risky. Be extra careful of a stubborn cold, of course. But the safest course is to be careful of all colds. Don't experiment. Relieve their misery this doubly proved way.

Here's What To Do: It's best to stay in bed and get lots of rest. Eat lightly, drink plenty of water, and keep elimination regular. And use Vicks VapoRub without delay.

VapoRub has been proved by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind—further proved by the largest clinical tests ever made on colds. (Full details in every VapoRub package.) Only Vicks give you proof like this.

No Long Waiting for Relief to Begin...

VapoRub is direct external treatment. No "dosing"—no stomach upsets. Just massage it on throat, chest, and back. Then—to make its long-continued double action last even longer—spread a thick layer on the chest and cover with a warmed cloth.

Relief starts almost at once. You begin to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub goes to work direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time its medicated vapors, released by body warmth, are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm, eases irritation and coughing, helps break local congestion. And long after restful sleep comes, VapoRub keeps right on working.

NOTE: If there is much irritation and coughing, or the air-passages feel clogged with heavy mucus or phlegm, even stronger vapor action is helpful. Pour boiling water in a bowl, melt a teaspoonful of VapoRub in it, and inhale the steaming vapors for several minutes.

THE STATE vs. ELNA JEPSON

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

(Copyright 1937)

CHAPTER XXII

Elna reached for the letter, intensifying the impression that she was a person who managed her own affairs, though her gesture in reality was only eagerness. The address was typewritten and the letter within was also typed.

"My dear Miss Jepson," she suppressed a gasp at the heading. "Because of the old association of our firm with your father and later with your estate, permit me to express our regret at your present difficulty. As your family attorney, it is possible that you may have expected me to represent you if your case should come to trial. On further thought, however, I am sure you have already realized how embarrassing it would be, since the death of my wife is connected with your name. Aside from natural feelings, my usefulness in court, I am sure, would be seriously impaired.

"May I suggest Michael McClung, who will, I am sure, represent you faithfully, as your attorney?"

* * *

Elna held the letter several minutes without speaking. Her first sense was the coldness of death. Roger had used his astuteness in writing a letter which would have been innocent if it had fallen into the wrong hands. But would she have written such a letter if the condition were reversed? Was there no thought of what she had gone through? But she must be just. Not Roger, but her own mistakes, had put her where she was. If he came openly to her rescue now, he would provide the motive.

She read the letter again, more calmly. Of course, in mentioning McClung, he meant that he would be the brains behind the defense. If his testimony were needed, it would be far more powerful as a witness. Why should she mind the cold typewritten letter? How would a love letter written by a man to the woman accused of killing his wife appear if the prosecution got hold of it?

She looked up finally, her face gravely calm, but her eyes radiant with courage and loyalty. "I accept your services with pleasure," she said with outstretched hand.

McClung was somewhat bewildered by the enthusiasm.

Elna sat down at the table and demanded paper and pencil from th elawyer's pockets for notes.

"Stop me if I'm wrong," she said as she wrote. "First, I don't want any more quizzing from the police. I said all I have to say to Inspector Jewell last night."

"I think that can be managed," McClung interrupted. "I know the chief of police well, and he has great confidence in Jewell."

"They'll want to search the house, of course," Elna went on. "The key is in my handbag in the property clerk's office. Hand it to them with my compliments. I want to seem helpful and not have the place torn to pieces. I'm beginning to know the inner working of policemen." She took time out for a smile. "I know them so well that I most particularly don't want to say the same things over to them for three days in their hope of 'breaking' me."

Elna knew she could not go through further interrogation, further visualization of the room, keeping truth and lie separate, yet trying to improve her own story, meeting Jewell's points without endangering Roger, without plunging into some wild whirlpool of hysteria which would not be the truth but which they would call "breaking."

"Next," Elna jotted, "The prosecution has a case and knows it. The best strategy for the moment, I think, is to let them think their case is open and shut. Get the arraignment set as quickly as you can. At the preliminary, I'll plead not guilty, and we'll reserve the defense. That will worry them a little and give us time to think things through."

* * *

Fort the first time McClung's round face broke into a humpty-dumpty smile at her dictatorial manner. The plan was sound enough.

"It's only that no lawyer ever had his neck strung by losing a case, and sometimes his client has." She saw that she had really shocked him. "Forgive me," she said. "The trial is our fight together, Mr. McClung."

"But you'll have to be in jail—the county jail—throughout the trial, too, you know." McClung had had other clients whose entire conversation had consisted of the horrors of their first night in jail.

"I didn't mean that," Elna said in the same gentle voice. "I've learned about people a little bit already.

"There's one thing more now—of course we'll have plenty of time later." She picked up another slip of paper. "I don't know what your fee should be, but you will tell me when you figure it out. There is enough money in the bank for a retainer, anyway. I'd like you to get my pocketbook—except for the key, of course—and everything you can out of my suitcase, the suitcase itself, if possible. I know they'll take out the powder—everybody here seems to have a mania about dope."

"We'll talk about the check when I see you tomorrow. I know the property clerk can get you most of the things, I think. There's one thing more," McClung said, this time with an authority of his own. "The press—on the floor below. You can hold them off a few minutes, but they'll be in a hurry." He kicked open the door but withdrew with Elna to a corner.

"Don't tell them a thing about the case but give them all the human interest dope they want. Be as sweet and appealing as you can. Don't think they're impertinent in asking personal questions. It's their job; they have to do it. Here are today's papers—Don't bother to read them now, but just get the tone of each. You'll have to study them every day to watch how they're veering and act accordingly. I'll explain that later."

Already the hallway was throbbing with voices calling, "Miss Jepson! Bring her out."

"Miss Jepson is with her attorney—"

"We don't want her attorney now. It's next door to edition time. Tell him to give us a break."

To Elna's surprise Mrs. Nielsen's face poked in at the door and gave an affirmative nod to Elna, accompanied by a wink.

"Tell them I shall be delighted to meet them within five minutes," Elna said.

She glanced down the front page of each paper. They varied only in sensationalism, one of them making much of the "mystery" of her life, another describing her as a "reincarnated Borgia," a third as the "Girl Friend Fiend." The shortest story, signed L. M. James, caught her eye because he alone wrote "mystery" not murder."

Elna saw reproductions of her photograph, taken at graduation time. Then, with a face white with anger, she saw the last paper, printed in pink. She knew that all photographers and cameramen had been ordered away by police the night before.

Yet here, four columns wide, evidently taken through the plate-glass window by a cameraman hiding among the bushes while the police chauffeur slept, was a photograph of herself and Jewell in the living room. The caption, in large letters, read, "Vamping Fails." Jewell's hand was on her shoulder in what she had thought was her arrest. The story that Jewell had spent his time with Elna, not in questioning her into a confession, but in making love to that end. "Surprise shot of how Cupid Jewell gets his—er—man," one phase caught her eye.

Vaguely she was conscious of the hubbub outside. Something in her was so cold with fury that all the rest seemed irrelevant. "If there is a woman outside willing to lend me her comb, I think your papers will be better pleased with the result."

A neatly dressed woman reporter outside held out a bag equipped with a make-up set to Mrs. Nielsen, who held the door outside. Elna was seated at the table, smoothed her hair, brushed her eyebrows. Her lips regained their careful red.

"Here stands Elna Jepson." She turned to Mrs. Nielsen. "Just wash the lady's comb—would you do that for me? I'm glad you're here."

SETS UP BOARD PLAN TO 'CURE' BUSINESS ILLS

Vandenberg Offers 10-Point Program Calling For Quick Action by Congress.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — A 10-point business recovery program advanced by Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, R., Mich., today consolidated proposals for quicker and broaded action than so far indicated by the administration.

Vandenberg, asking "where do we go from here," said that "business must not be permitted to run the government; but unless it is permitted reasonable latitude to run itself, prosperity will die on the vine."

Holds Caucus Today.

House Republicans will hold their first party caucus of the session after the lower house recesses today. Rep. Harold Knutson, R., Minn., requested the caucus and since he is a member of the house ways and means committee which would determine repeal of the undivided profits taxes, it appeared certain that an effort would be made to have the party adopt a standard policy on how business should be aided. Knutson favors immediate repeal of these taxes instead of waiting until the regular session in January.

In the senate, members of both parties canvassed the situation to see if repeal of the legislation could be speeded.

Sen. Vandenberg offered this 10 point platform:

1. Stop the government "hymns of hate" against business.
2. Balance the budget soon as possible.
3. Substitute "incentive taxation" for "punitive" taxes and modify or repeal of the surplus and capital gains taxes.
4. Amend the social security act to stop the "needless drain" on both labor and industry.
5. Revise the Wagner labor relations act.
6. Give up the fight over the wage-hour bill and enact legislation to bar interstate shipment of goods made by sub-standard labor.
7. Eliminate "executive despotism" through repeal of many of the emergency powers given the president.
8. Enact farm relief without bureaucratic controls.
9. Provied that America stays out of war through an "insulating" neutrality policy.
10. Abandon "all anti-constitutional activities."

GETS HEARING

Convicted Ohio Killer to Appear Before Board Dec. 3.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Wray Bevans, Gov. Martin L. Davey's clemency secretary, said today that William M. Gardner, convicted of murdering Arch B. Coyner in Columbus Jan. 15, 1935, would be granted a clemency hearing before the state parole board Dec. 3. He originally was sentenced to be electrocuted Nov. 3, but was given a 45-day reprieve by Governor Davey.

ATTENDS FUNERAL

GALION—Mrs. Gerald Davis of South Boston street, Galion, attended funeral services this afternoon at the Fulton Methodist church for her father, O. W. Pinder, who died at his home near Mt. Gilead Saturday afternoon.

Nobody Loves a Cathartic-Crank!

Most cathartics are habit-forming—in time you must take them oftener and step up the dose. There's no fear of this when you eat a NATURAL laxative food like Kellogg's All-Bran.

Instead of over-stimulating your intestines, All-Bran supplies TWO things they need. First, vitamin "B,"—the amazing vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract. Second, All-Bran provides "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination.

Eat this crunchy, toasted cereal with milk or cream and fruits. In muffins it's delicious. But however you eat it, use it REGULARLY: eat two tablespoons of All-Bran and drink plenty of water. If you do this every day you can avoid common constipation—and cathartics, too! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. At every grocer's.

FIVE ILL WITH SCARLET FEVER

Illness Hits Lincoln Heights; Rehder Sees No Danger of Epidemic.

Despite five cases of scarlet fever reported in the Lincoln Heights section, Dr. Roy C. Rehder, city-county health commissioner, said today there is no immediate danger of an epidemic and that schools will not be closed unless a further spread of the disease warrants closing.

Public meetings in the district have been reduced to a minimum as a precautionary measure. A P. T. A. session scheduled for Wednesday night has been postponed, according to County Superintendent Boyd Robinson.

"Nurses are making a regular check of pupils in the affected area and where sore throats and severe colds are found, the children are sent home," Dr. Rehder said.

"In that manner," he added, "we hope to avert closing the schools just before a four-day Thanksgiving holiday which will give contact cases a chance to appear."

The incubation period in scarlet fever is from four to five days, Dr. Rehder added.

Society

Florence Wagner Talks On Flood At Club Meeting

A social affair was sponsored by members of the Lumbermen Girls' club last night in the Chinese room of the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Miss Florence Wagner, guest speaker, gave her experiences as a Red Cross nurse during the Cincinnati floods.

"Behind the Flood Lines" was the title of a movie shown by Paul J. Winters, instructor at John Simpson school, to illustrate the talk. A musical program was presented by several young Mansfield musicians.

BUCYRUS — Frank L. Hopley has announced that he is in communication with the state highway department relative to getting adequate protection at the Short Line railroad crossing on Plymouth street where a number of automobiles have been driven into trains standing on the crossing.

He reports the department is interested in receiving plans for the elimination of the crossing, which has no protection save for roadside signs.

Action was renewed this week following the death last week of two Willard men whose car crashed into a standing train Nov. 14.

Hopley also has announced that he has proposed to the department that the Plymouth street route which is 98, be turned to the Lincoln Highway before it reaches the Shirt Line crossing thus carrying all 98 traffic in and out of Plymouth through the new underpass which will be completed next summer.

DAVEY DEFIES LABOR BOARD

Calls Federal Group Affiliate of CIO; Challenges Action on Strike Orders.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Gov. Martin L. Davey, who used the National Guard to protect workers in the "Little Steel" strike last spring, responded today to a complaint filed against him with the national labor relations board by declaring: "Even that CIO affiliate cannot invade the sovereign powers of the state of Ohio."

The complaint was filed against the chief executive by the United Rubber Workers of America, affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization, "to make Governor Davey confine his activity in strike matters to where there have been infractions of the law," Union Counsel Stanley Denlinger said.

In an action that James P. Miller, regional director of the NLRB Cleveland office, termed "unprecedented," the union thus answered Gov. Davey's order Saturday to 2,000 National Guardsmen to "stand by" for possible duty at the Akron factory of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company while a sit-down strike was in progress.

After terming the labor board a "CIO affiliate," Davey said:

"If to preserve law and order in Ohio is to violate any federal statute, it would be news to me. In any event we choose to continue on the path of duty and protect the liberties of all our people. I still stand as a greater friend of labor than those who would beat them into submission to the iron will of a few self-seeking dictators."

POLICE HOLD RUNAWAY

Mansfield police today were holding a 16-year-old runaway Summerville, Pa., boy who was picked up by detectives yesterday on Park avenue east. The boy gave his name as Jack Smay and said that he had hitch-hiked here from Pennsylvania, looking for work.

SEEKS TO HAVE NAYLOR TESTIFY IN PAROLE QUIZ

Duffy Requests Clevelander, Friend of Dougan, to Appear Before Grand Jury.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy today asked Arch W. Naylor of Cleveland to waive immunity and testify before a special grand jury currently investigating operations of Ohio's parole system.

Naylor, a friend of Leland S. Dougan, former parole board chairman, is a key figure in the inquiry. He now is in Zanesville city prison, where Duffy's request was to be presented by Paul Hergenroeder and George Hurley, assistant attorneys general.

Illness of Mrs. Naylor prevented her from testifying further befor the grand jury today.

Mrs. Naylor, who was the "star" witness at the hearing's start yesterday, testified then for an hour and 15 minutes, but Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy reported today she had suffered three heart attacks during the night.

He was uncertain when she would be able to reappear.

Reporter Testfies.

James T. Keenan, reporter for Ohio Scripps-Howard newspapers, which have charged that fees were obtained by certain persons for helping convicts obtain paroles, testified for 45 minutes and was to be recalled later.

Rev. J. A. Sullivan, Catholic chaplain at Ohio penitentiary, was closeted with the grand jury for more than an hour this morning and was to take the stand again in the afternoon.

Mrs. Naylor's husband, held in jail at Zanesville on open charges, has been named in published newspaper charges that "brokers accepted fees to aid convicts in obtaining paroles from Ohio prisons."

Although approximately 25 of the estimated 2,000 witnesses expected to appear before the investigating body were on hand at the opening session, only a few were questioned.

Several representatives of banks and building and loan companies were among the first witnesses on hand as the attorney general sought to learn whether the financial institutions kept any funds in escrow to be paid to certain persons as fees upon the release of convicts from prison.

Dufyy changed his plans to conduct the investigation in the state penitentiary and brought the nine men and six women on the grand jury to his office in the state house. He said he had received reports that a recording device had been found in the room in which he had planned to hold the hearing.

$5,000 Judgment Affirmed In Suit Against Mrs. Dill

MT. VERNON — (AP) — Mrs. Grace Dill of Fredericktown, O., lost in the fifth district state court of appeals her appeal from a verdict granting her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Margie Heaton Dill, a $5,000 judgment for alleged alienation of affections.

The appellate court upheld the Knox county common pleas court in which a jury awarded the judgment against Mrs. Grace Dill and her brother-in-law, former U. S. Senator Clarce C. Dill of Washington.

Former Senator Dill's motion for a retrial of the case was upheld by the common pleas court and the case is still pending.

Margie Heaton Dill, a Mt. Vernon stenographer who married young Dill in 1934 a day after they were graduated from Fredericktown high school, charged that her mother-in-law and the former senator conspired to have an illegal operation performed on her to break up the marriage.

For Double-Quick Cough Relief, Mix This at Home

Better Than Ready-Made Medicines. Easily Mixed.

Here's an old home remedy your mother used, but, for real results, it is still the best thing ever known for coughs that start from colds. Try it once, and you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed—a child could do it.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of actually better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for four times the money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a family a long time.

And there is positively nothing like it for quick action. You can feel it take hold instantly. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes, and helps clear the air passages. No cough remedy, at any price, could be more effective.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

NEW ARRESTS TO BE MADE IN CHILD SLAYING, MAYOR SAYS

(Picture on Page 1)

PHILADELPHIA — (U.P.) — At least one and possibly two more persons will be arrested immediately in the slaying of five-year-old Nancy Glenn, for which Mary Keenan O'Connor, 19, physical education student, is being held, Mayor S. Davis Wilson announced this afternoon.

"There will be another arrested in the O'Connor case this afternoon," the mayor said. "There may be two—certainly one."

The mayor's announcement followed closely on a mysterious conference between police officials and the blond defendant and another young woman, described by police as "a girl friend."

Miss O'Connor, described by police as having a reputation for being "very bad tempered," once was a patient at the mental diseases department of Pennsylvania hospital known as Kirkbride's, officials said they had determined.

Dr. Earle D. Bond, superintendent of Pennsylvania hospital, said the girl had been sent to the institution by her family physician last week. He declined to amplify his statement or comment on a report that while there Miss O'Connor confessed the slaying and gave a different version than that told to police.

No explanation was forthcoming likewise, of a statement attributed to Robert S. O'Connor, father of Mary, that he had asked police to question her because she talked in her sleep about being responsible for Nancy's death.

Mary, who allegedly dictated a confession at Merchantville, N. J., yesterday waived extradition from New Jersey and was brought here last night. She spent the night at city hall following an arraignment before Mayor S. Davis Wilson, who sat as a committing magistrate.

Miss O'Connor, a student at Immaculata college, allegedly admitted striking Nancy because she had annoyed her. Then, according to police, she left Nancy's body in a mud hole on a desolate road after covering her with a sheet of tin.

Some people appear to develop more "skill" on marble machines than they do at their regular work.

There has thus far been no complaint against colleges subsidizing students desirous of securing an education.

Bernard Shaw has set to work improving Shakespeare—while over here some Democratic statesmen seem to think that Jefferson would bear revising.

Prosperity or Depression—Which?

WHETHER the present recession develops into another nation-wide depression—whether there are to be more jobs, or less—depends very largely on Congress, the federal administration, and the policies of labor leaders.

For a number of years it has been considered "good politics" to berate capital and industry, without taking into account that both of these are essentials to employment of millions of people and distribution of billions of dollars in salaries and wages.

Nothing has been too drastic for politically-minded administrators of government to heap on industry and business, in the way of legislation, regulation, taxation, government competition, labor dictation, and countless restrictions and penalties which have tended to not only imperil profits but also to place actual operating policies in the hands of persons entirely unfitted for such responsibility.

The inevitable result is now being experienced and the wheels of progress are mired in an economic quagmire for which the misfeasance of agencies of federal government is largely to blame.

Political radicalism and labor radicalism have been riding high during the past several years, while competent and experienced business and industrial management has been belittled, bedeviled and hog-tied to such an extent that the ordinary processes of production and distribution are ceasing to function in anything like a normal way.

Congress has a job to do—the responsible heads of this administration have a job to do—and the sound elements in labor leadership have a job to do—before there can be a restoration of public confidence which is an absolute essential to national prosperity.

The first move is up to Congress. It can make the start by abandoning the malignant capital gains and surplus profits tax.

It can balance the national budget by spreading the tax base instead of following a fallacious "soak the rich" policy.

It can drop its socialistic program of government competition in the field of private business.

It can institute a "square deal" policy for both capital and labor—equality of consideration for both.

It can announce a policy of encouragement rather than discouragement of private enterprise.

It can give assurance that government will act as the impartial umpire in affairs of citizens, rather than following an attitude of dictation.

These are a few of the things that Congress and the federal administration can do within the next several weeks toward restoration of normal activities. Such a program would go far toward assuring millions of additional jobs and billions in increased earnings and dividends to workers and stockholders next year.

Farther and Faster.

AMERICANS are becoming the greatest travelers in history. Transportation experts figure that the average American will travel 2,000 miles during the present year. This would be about 9,000 miles for all the members of an average family together. Since the children travel much less than the grown-ups, it might be a yearly average of 4,000 or 5,000 miles for the latter.

The most impressive thing about the figures is their trend. The present year's travel per person is said to be four times the distance it was in 1920.

Most of it is naturally in motor cars. The annual total traveled in private automobiles is now said to be at least eight times as great as was the passenger-mile rate in 1920, when railroad travel was at its height.

It's well, though, for the comfort of motorists, not to go too far in bragging about the superiority of automobile travel to railroad travel. The latter is incomparably safer.

When Nations Throttle Trade.

FORMER Prime Minister Arthur Meighen of Canada is one of the statesmen who are quite unimpressed by the demand of Germany, seconded by Italy, for restoration of colonies lost in the World war. He tells an American audience it is trade, not territory, that such a nation needs.

Germany, like other crowded and highly industrialized countries, cannot endure having trade throttled. It is just as bad when they throttle their own trade—which is what Germany seems to be doing—as when they have it throttled by other nations. He argues that what is wrong with Germany today is mainly her policy of economic self-sufficiency, combined with self-destructive armament.

As far as former colonies are concerned, he points out that Germany or any other nation today can only get goods and raw materials from colonies—her own or those of any other power—by buying them.

Colonies today, he argues, are useful only for national pride and military power, not for economic needs. All that is required for the latter is a loosening of trade restrictions, where all the nations, particularly industrial nations limited in raw materials like Germany, can gain the means to import the things they need.

If Nature adapts itself to needs, there's a danger of sweat pores eventually disappearing from the human anatomy.

It appears, after all, that Baltimore will have to be remembered mainly as the place where the oysters come from.

With the high price of meat and the low price of books, it appears that there's no shortage of food for thought.

Father Dionne has had his first airplane ride—aside from being up in the air the night the quins arrived.

Pity the poor onion—it started out to be a lily and then developed halitosis.

McIntyre's New York Day by Day

THE metropolis is filled with people who are what the medical fellows call "loppers." The old fashioned rocker has gone out, chiefly because people do not relax sitting up any more, either at the office or at home. Instead they "lop around." Like the Lunts in their plays.

On a chaise lounge, divan or any of the many modern versions for luxurious body ease. With the radio, too, cliff dwellers have acquired the knack of getting comfortable in sleeping togs right after dinner and going to bed with their papers and books instead of arm chair.

Sunday is an especial "lop" day. Thousands who do not play golf or go to church remain in pajamas, house or lounging robes the entire day. Doormen at such big hotels as the Waldorf, as well as large apartment houses, say 90 per cent of the guests remain in most of the Sabbath.

Home owners have found the dens and nooks with comfortable gadgets for "lopping" are the most popular places when company comes. It is a windfall for the makers of sleeping and lounging togs and the delicatessens, but that's about all.

The genial but shrewdly critical Dinty Doyle puts a finger on an annoying radio gesture that many of us suffer in silence. That custom of masters of ceremony—Don Ameche is the outstanding offender—of thanking so profusely everybody on the program for their bits. As Doyle points out, they all get paid and in most instances extravagantly. Courtesy is desirable in presenting acts, but overdoing the Alphonso and Gaston motif is becoming a pain in the neck.

Prosecutor Thomas Dewey proved without fear in the recent political campaign. His triumphs have been the result of his fight on the most murderous gangsters. In instances he announced where he would speak or broadcast and who would be attacked. Yet not once did he arrive or leave with bodyguard. He has a safe full of threats but never has anyone seen him throw up personal protection. He expresses his contempt for the underworld by calling all its denizens "punks."

Will H. Hays, once the thin man of the executive side of the movies, is no longer in the lightweight division. During his recent long stay in California he lived on his ranch in Hidden Valley, where he rode horse-back daily, chopped wood and went on week-end hikes up the mountainside. Never a robust eater, he began tearing into four-inch steaks with all the trimmings, plus copious beakers of fresh milk. As a result, he took on 18 pounds and came back East almost unrecognizable to friends. Put 18 pounds on a 135 pounder and you have something!

The thinnest fellow I ever saw outside the dime museum was the late Grant Clarke, the song writer. Yet he had one of the lustiest appetites hereabouts. He generally had a second helping of main dishes and two kinds of dessert. His digestion, too, was perfect. To fatten up he once went on a milk diet at a sanitarium in Jersey. The usual course was five weeks and almost everybody gained ten to 15 pounds. Clarke remained 11 and did not gain a pound. To my notion the greatest battle against flesh was by Paul Whiteman. No one so loved richly seasoned food and taste of old wines and German brews. I saw him once when he could not squeeze into a Paris taxi we hailed. Giving up his food and drink was torture yet he went through it valiantly. But how he suffered!

Monotype: I watched from an adjoining table one of those precise, continental and monocled 9 o'clock diners last night. Correctly dinner jacketed to the lapel corn flower, and like his European prototype—alone! He inspected the menu with the feverishness of the race bettor looking to see who won the last at Pimlico, murmuring a barrage of cross questions at the waiter captain. When his melon came, he took a bite, sent it back. He had his soup warmed over and polished his silver on his napkin before using. He did not seem to know for a half dozen bites whether his cutlet was right, and he got up from his chair to do a little superintending of the salad dressing mixing. It was quite a show, of which he seemed totally unconscious. And I could not help but sneak a peek at his tip. The son-of-a-gun left 15 cents.

Fear Broadened Tax Base Would Vex Voters

—By LESLIE EICHEL

TAX REVISION is not so simple as it seems. Neither is "budget balancing." Even the loudest talkers in congress have been finding that out.

Tremendous pressure from big business has been exerted for the cutting of taxes that affect corporations and wealthy individuals—such as the capital gains and loss tax and revising the undistributed profits' tax. These taxes are believed to deter investment and expansion, and to weaken the reserves of corporations.

Cutting the capital gains and loss tax even may increase revenue, it is believed.

(The Wall Street Journal headlines: "Revised capital gains tax plan held step toward 'unsoaking' rich. Proposal shows belief in Washington that this levy has restricted flow of investment capital." The Wall Street Journal adds joyfully that the house committee's proposal seems "almost incredible" in that "it embodies a capital gains tax device for the especial benefit of individual taxpayers in the higher income brackets." The Journal takes this as an indication that Washington finally realizes that taxes have restricted the flow of capital into business and greets the change with enthusiasm.)

* * *

WHO SHALL BE TAXED?

A tax on production inevitably does have a blighting effect. But if such a tax has been removed and there remains a deficit, there must be a proportionate tax placed elsewhere.

The Tory Democrats, under the leadership of Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi (where there are not many taxable incomes) proposes (1) a broadening of the income tax base, or (2) a general sales tax. They prefer to have the budget balanced, but with millions of unemployed needing more relief, not less, the words of the Tory Democrats are mere gestures.

"Broadening the income tax base" means nothing less than including more people in the lower brackets and increasing the tax of those in the middle brackets. A sales tax would cover everybody, even the jobless. (I live in a state where there is a sales tax and where the tax on a bottle of medicine runs as high as 15 cents; and where the tax on a child's suit may run as high as $1.50, if not more.)

Does anyone believe that a house, every member of which must face the electorate next year, will pass a tax bill to "soak" the masses, while relieving the tax on large corporations (however advisable and justifiable that may be)? It just isn't in the cards.

Besides, in a period of stress such as this is, with many people suffering, it would invite revolt—or a thoughtless, heedless mad dash into the deadly clutches of fascism.

A SECRETARY MAY GO

No one can guess more than a few days ahead as to what will occur—but there have been evidences that Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau may be leaving his post soon. He is acceptable to neither side.

New Dealers have been telling him that his "balance the budget" cry in the face of human misery would in the end necessarily turn the president from him. And that the people he would please and to whom he would give confidence merely would laugh scornfully at his words.

All that seems to be coming true.

The administration will not balance the budget—because it cannot.

And when Secretary Morgenthau read his budget-balancing speech at the Academy of Political Science, the scorners laughed rudely.

* * *

SERIOUS

But there is no laughter in the White House. Scores of men have brought reports.

The original New Dealers—and even some economists who profess no side—urge stringent New Deal action, a stronger, but surer-coursed New Deal than ever. They say that business men who laugh scornfully laugh in folly, and that they ought to join in, as business men have joined with the Tory government in England, to put through "life-saving" social and economic reforms.

On the other hand, Morganthau and Pat Harrison and the standpatters of both parties insist that the only manner in which "to save the nation" is to cut expenditures sufficiently to balance the budget.

One southern senator (whose state, incidentally, gets large relief sums), insists that a billion dollars be cut from relief. In the meantime, relief officials and mayors and governors (of both political parties) assert that two billion dollars additional for relief will not be sufficient. And that counts nothing for renewed "pump priming."

But, as Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York said, the chief problem is to end "the vicious circle"—by spreading the profits generally to all who produce them, in order to increase buying power. Until then, there will be neither stability for business or agriculture, nor security for the worker, nor an end to relief.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON—

The Stranger Down the Street.

LOIS EDWARDS says these Red Cross campaigns burn her up. Why should we be expected to give to the Red Cross when we're digging up all these other taxes . . . millions for this n' that Relief—?

Lois is a smart little number. Only 23 and already running her own Interior Decorating business. Typical young modern . . . born in a swank west side apartment, wise to all the city angels . . . Yet I suspect she has missed some things that are mighty essential to American life . . . some things that the Red Cross keeps alive when so much that was fine is taking the count.

Aunt Hattie Lane f'instance . . . there's nothing in the modern city formula to explain Aunt Hat. She wasn't much to look at—just one of those comfortable spinsters who used to be a part of every small town's life. Lived by herself in a little cottage—canary bird, white picket fence, lilac bush, ginger bread, spice cake and "rhubarb shrub" that you could sniff a mile away.

Thirty years since I saw Aunt Hat, but I can still remember that smell—still see her bustling and beaming down the street, with something on a covered plate for a sick neighbor. Didn't matter who you were or what you had . . . you could always count on Aunt Hat. Just the sight of her was better than all the medicine.

There were Aunt Hats everywhere, in those days. Male as well as female ones. Hard-working men who'd sit up all night with some poor fellow who was down with a broken leg or a spell of typhoid . . . who'd stop in after work hours to mend a neighbor's screen door or shovel his snow . . . even though their own 12-hour work day started at 6:30. And we took them all for granted!

Looking back now, I marvel. They had so little—those hard-pressed, kindly people. Such meager wages for such drudging service—yet they were always giving, and no one thought much about it.

I don't know what Aunt Hat would have said if someone had classed such giving as "taxes." Been pretty mad, I suspect . . . she was a proud and spunky soul. She didn't think of giving as a duty. Nobody did. We all expected it of each other. Took a sort of pride in the way we did it . . . each woman trying to take the best cake . . . each man boasting that he had the slickest hand with garden truck.

Doing things like that for each other—or for some unfortunate stranger "down the street"—was one of our privileges . . . part of our American plan.

And now—that has almost gone from the picture. You'll find it in the back country of course—but mostly we're too hurried and worried with our own affairs to think about the Other Fellow. We've grown so great, spread so far and fast as a nation, that everything has become nationalized. Federal laws instead of personal privileges—you can't blame Lois much for rating the Red Cross as "just another tax."

But it isn't. And if you've seen America in the making, as we older ones have, you know it isn't. It's just Aunt Hat! It's the one part of the American system that isn't nationalized . . . that still comes fresh and warm from the individual heart—a free and willing gift.

Not cold, obligatory dollars and cents but honest friendliness . . . "something on a covered plate" for a little tad who lies alone all day, looking wistfully out of a tenement window . . . for a broken-hearted mother in Russia or a starving father in China . . . for all "the strangers down the street who need a hand."

Part of the old America still going on—still untouched by new restrictions and formalities. Not a law. Not a duty. But a proud privilege! Yes, the pocket might be empty. But the heart was full! And that covered plate was the proof.

* * *

P. S. Does this mean that I'm telling you to give to the Red Cross? No it doesn't. I'm leaving it up to you. One never TOLD an old line American to give anything. He didn't need to be told!

Timely Editorial

Veterinary Comes Back.

One of the interesting features in farm development in recent years has been the reviving of the veterinary profession. In the early '20s it was thought the sweep of farm motorization might leave comparatively few horses to be cared for and veterinary interest fell off. Now the Kansas State college at Manhattan has many more applicants for the veterinary courses than it can handle.

The last annual report from the veterinary hospital at Manhattan throws light on the situation. Last year the hospital cared for 5,522 head of cattle; 1,768 swine; 1,441 horses and 158 mules; and 609 sheep. Pet dogs and cats were sent to the hospital in large numbers. It treated 2,240 dogs and 610 cats.

Evidently a great agricultural state is going to continue to need large numbers of trained men to look after ailing animals—as has been further demonstrated recently by the epidemic of sleeping sickness that affected 10 per cent of the horse population of Kansas.—Kansas City Times.

Meaning of South American Dictatorships

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
(AP Feature Service Writer)

WASHINGTON—The news that Brazil has joined the growing list of Latin American dictatorships has brought home to official Washington generally a fact that has long harassed the state department's inner circle, namely:

Radio waves are constantly undermining the Monroe Doctrine—our time-honored barrier against European political systems.

(In case you've forgotten, President Monroe told European nations 114 years ago that we would keep hands off Europe, and expected, in return, that they would keep their colonizers and their political systems out of the western hemisphere.)

But here is what has been happening:

1. European radio stations—especially German, Italian and Russian—have been broadcasting news and entertainment programs to Latin Americans in their own language for several years.
2. These broadcasts naturally reflect fascist and communistic systems in a highly favorable light and constantly use labels and terms that go with those systems.
3. Some South American newspapers pick up this information daily and re-distribute it in printed form.

All this means that the Monroe Doctrine is daily suffering erosion from Europe, and yet the Doctrine is not being violated. Any nation may broadcast information and entertainment.

* * *

Question of Terms.

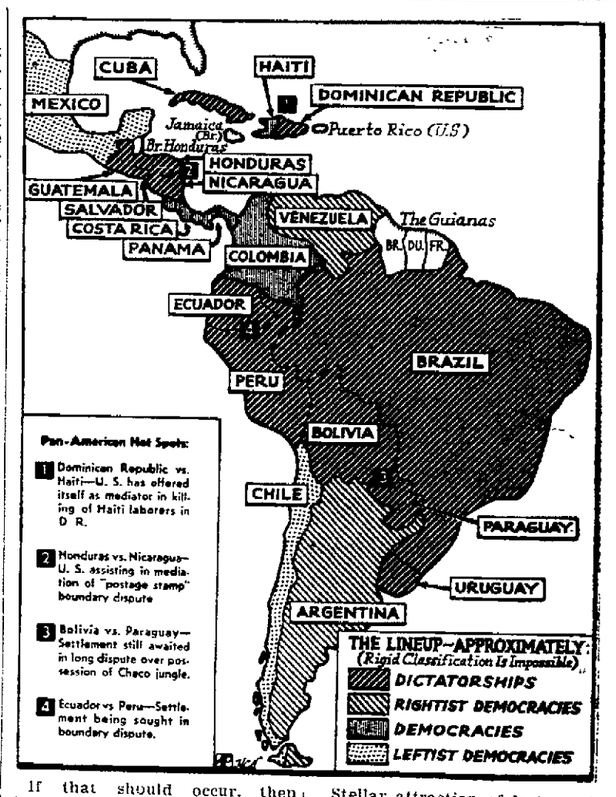
MEANWHILE, South Americans are growing more and more familiar with fascist and communist ideas and labels, such as "the corporative state," "centralized control," "economic expansion for the state," and the like.

One unofficial authority in Washington, who is in a position to analyze first-hand reports from South America, puts it like this:

"The fact is that the South American nations commonly labelled fascist are not fascist in the Italian sense; nor is the Latin American group that bears the communist stamp communistic in the Russian sense. South American dictatorships now are what they always were—minority groups or strong-arm leaders controlling nations with the aid of armies."

Here's where the rub comes:

United States officials — and many business men, for that matter—fear that the constant use of the political language and labels of Europe ultimately may lead South American nations and the world at large to believe communism and fascism of the European variety actually have taken root right at our own doorstep.



If that should occur, then these ticklish questions would have to be answered:

* * *

Ties Still Strong.

WOULD European fascist and communist nations be able to gain an economic perch in South America at the expense of the great democracies? And, more important, would such a movement finally force the United States to defend the Monroe Doctrine or cease to consider it as a matter of foreign policy?

Only the future can tell, but for the time being it can be said on reliable authority that the economic ties between the United States and South America are holding fast. Brazil, the latest South American nation that has reverted to dictatorship, has taken great pains to assure the United States that it has not gone fascist, contradictory as that may seem.

Likewise, Argentina's President Augustin P. Justo reminded the "fascists" of his country recently that its natural economic ties were with two powerful democracies, Great Britain and the United States.

As for the wide gulf of language and culture that separates the United States from South America, a beginning has been made.

Stellar attraction of last year's Pan-American conference was the President of the democratic United States. The conferring nations agreed to swap cultural lore.

The United States bureau of education has already plunged into the job of educating our own citizens in elemental South American history. Its radio program, "Brave New World," is broadcast on a network of 80-odd stations every Monday night.

* * *

Radio and News.

THERE'S another ace in the hole. The United States has five short-wave radio bands set aside by international agreement for non-commercial broadcasting to South America. The federal radio commission has started hearings to decide whether private broadcasters will use those bands. And at least one congressman is agitating a bill to put the government into the pan-American radio broadcasting field.

American news associations and agencies are sending news dispatches to South American newspapers daily—unhampered, however, by any argument for any political system.

It is possible we'll be listening to South American opera stars one of these days, and South Americans will be going wild over baseball....Time will tell.

So easy to make perfect pie crust with purer, creamier Spry. No need to chill ingredients. Just sift flour and salt together. Add ⅓ of Spry and cut in until mixture is as fine as corn meal. Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of a navy bean. Sprinkle water, 1 tablespoon at a time, over mixture. With a fork, work lightly together until a dough is formed. Roll dough ⅛-inch thick. Place dough in pie plate and let relax 5 minutes. Pat with ball of dough. Trim pastry ½-inch larger than pan and turn back edge. Flute rim. Remember, only Spry will give perfect results in this recipe.

Personalities Behind the Microphone

MARION TALLEY SINGS ON NBC NETWORK NOW

HOLLYWOOD—Signed to a 52-week contract, Marion Talley has returned to the National Broadcasting Company networks Sundays, to star in the new Ry-Krisp program from Hollywood.

Miss Talley, who achieved success as an opera singer at the age of 17 and then retired, attaining stardom years later in motion pictures and radio is heard each Sunday from 5:00 to 5:30 p. m., EST, over the NBC-Red Network.

MARION TALLEY

The entire cast of her last year's company, which includes both operatic and popular singers, is back with the soprano star. The cast includes Josef Koestner, favorite radio maestro of the late Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink; Paul Taylor and his Choristers, and Ken Carpenter, announcer.

Miss Talley, who recently recovered from an appendectomy, is a former Kansas City girl who was trained for the Metropolitan Opera with funds raised by popular subscription among her townspeople. At the height of her operatic career, she startled the musical world by announcing her retirement to her quiet farm in Kansas, where she remained in seclusion for several years. Plump prima donnas were still in fashion, but Miss Talley went on a rigid diet and emerged a few years later at the film capital as a trim and chic young woman, weighing a paltry 105 pounds.

Koestner, her conductor, is a nephew of Felix Mottl, the great Wagnerian maestro, who introduced the late Schumann-Heink to Richard Wagner and thereby launched the diva on her memorable career as a Wagnerian interpreter.

He's Betty, Too

HOLLYWOOD—When Betty Lou Barry came to Hollywood from New York, the trip didn't cost a cent. In fact, she is probably the only radio star who ever journeyed across the continent without somebody paying the bill.

Tommy Riggs

It cost something for even Charlie McCarthy to get to tow — because he occupies a whole suitcase, but Betty Lou only exists in one voice of Tommy Riggs, the "Mi Tommy" of Rudy Vallee's Royal Variety Hour, and the man who gave Betty Lou a very real existence on the radio.

For two months now Tommy and Betty Lou have been building up two likable characters on the Vallee broadcasts over the NBC-Red Network, Thursdays at 8.00 p. m., EST, and the two (or one if you like) are one of three acts ever to be signed for a series of performances on the show. And they got the job by auditing less than 24 hours before they went on the air the first time.

MUSSOLINI STALIN HITLER

Those are the roles that Ted di Corsia, Edwin Jerome and Dwight Elst (left to right) take in radio dramatizations of March of Time.

March of Time Is NBC Feature

The March of Time made its debut in March, 1931, as a new idea in radio programs. The show brings to radio listeners six to eight vivid sequences in each half-hour period of the most dramatic stories of the week. Each program requires the services of more than 30 actors and actresses, 19 musicians, eight production, service and sound-effects experts, and 11 editorial and research workers.

Work for the program starts on Saturday morning when the editors and writers of the March of Time select preliminary news events to be converted into acts for the following Thursday night. Out of some 20 scripts prepared Monday evening, ten or a dozen are selected for tryouts in Tuesday's rehearsal. With all the facilities of the news magazine Time at their disposal, the writers prepare their scripts as the news of the week progresses.

Hear These Characters With a Modern Radio

CHARLIE McCARTHY and EDGAR BERGEN

HOLLYWOOD—Charlie McCarthy beware!

Andrea Leeds, who guest-stars on NBC'S Chase and Sanborn Hour Nov. 28, over the NBC-Red Network, at 8.00 p. m. EST, owes her screen career to an amateur film and a marathon kissing contest.

The film was made by students of the University of California at Los Angeles, and by all accounts it was pretty terrible. Howard Hawks, well-known director, was persuaded to view the film. He came to scoff, and remained to sign the heroine.

A month later, Hawks was casting for the role of Tony Schwerke in "Come and Get It," and selected a kissing scene for the test, with Miss Leeds as the kissee. She was kissed 467 time by actual count, alternately by Francis X. Shields, tennis star; John Payne and Bob Lowery. Shields won the part, but the real triumph belonged to Miss Leeds, who not only stood up under the kiss barrage but was unexpectedly signed to an important role—by virtue of screen tests intended for others.

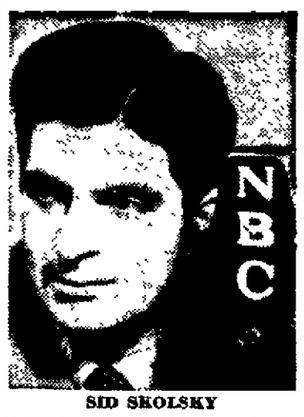
Talks About Stars

Sid Skolsky, who added to his stature as a columnist when he left Broadway to cover the movies, brings his Hollywood news and impressions to the air in a weekly series over the NBC-Blue Network.

The program is sponsored by the Emerson Drug company, of Baltimore, in the interest of Bromo Seltzer. The contract is for 52 weeks.

Skolsky, originally a portrayer of Broadway figures under the title of "Tintypes," long since transferred his field of operations to Hollywood. He delights in discovering anachronisms and other "boners" in the motion pictures and telling the world about them.



SID SKOLSKY

Philadelphia Orchestra To Put On Opera

PHILADELPHIA—The Philadelphia Orchestra, with Alexander Smallens as conductor, presented Pucsini's famous opera, "La Boheme," in their regular weekly broadcast, Monday, Nov. 22. The program originated at the Academy of Music here and was heard over the NBC-Blue Network from 9:00 to 10:00 p. m. EST. Susanne Fisher will sing the role of "Mimi," Lucy Monroe will be heard as "Musetta," and Armand Tokatyan will sing "Rudolpho."

The story of the opera will be told in its entirety during the hour broadcast, and as the narrative of the Bohemians in Paris of the 1840's unfolds, the singers will be heard in all the important music of the work. The great arias, duets, and the famous quartette in the third act will be sung in Italian by a veteran operatic cast.

This performance marks the seventh time this year that Alexander Smallens will be leading the Philadelphia Orchestra in an opera. Famed alike for his symphonic and operatic conducting, Mr. Smallens has of late become a radio favorite as well. It is his belief that opera, with the story simply told and the music played by an orchestra of the stature of the Philadelphia Orchestra and sung by operatic stars in the language of the original libretto, cannot fail to take its place among the most popular of radio programs.

Susanne Fisher made her debut at the Metropolitan Opera House less than two years ago as a Puccinni heroine, and since that time she has gone on to many triumphs

College Town Scene of New NBC Serial

A typical American college town somewhere west of the Alleghenies is the setting for the new NBC serial, Special Delivery, broadcast each Saturday over the NBC-Red Network from 9:30 to 10 00 p. m. EST.

The characters in the play are the townspeople of Burbage and authorities and students of Carver College. The story thus far is concerned with the feud Miss Tiny Woodward, determined and captivating heroine, is waging with the

Irene Hubbard

NBC actress, who has been starred in many dramatic programs. Other roles present Irene Hubbard as authorities of Carver College to obtain the office of Postmaster of Burbage Township.

Miss Woodward is played by Marion Randolph, Aunt Mary; Charles Webster as Gilbert Harmon, chair of the board of trustees of Carver College; Richard Gordon as Dr. Omar Hunter, president of Carver College; Raymond Bramley as Professor Gibson and Ray Fant as Joel Yancey, mail

STEELS LEAD STOCK MARKET IN COMEBACK

Leaders Manage to Retrieve Portion of Yesterday's Sharp Losses.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Steels led a quiet come-back in today's stock market.

While proceedings were of a slow-motion variety, leaders managed to retrieve fractions to 2 points of Monday's sharp losses. At the same time a number of issues registered declines near the second hour.

With no appreciable change in the cludy business picture brokers generally attributed the rally to the liklihood yesterday's slump may have attracted quick-turn buyers. Bonds were uneven. Commodities improved.

Handicapping utilities were unofficial estimates that electric power production for the week ended Saturday may have dipped below the corresponding 1936 period for the first time this year. Official figures on output are to be published tomorrow.

Followers of the oils scanned reports from this industry which pointed out that recent cuts in wholesale prices of gasoline amounted to as much as ¾ of a cent a gallon in some areas would likely effect profits of some large petroleum companies.

ASHLAND OVER

Community Fund Tops Goal of $26,000 by $300.

ASHLAND — The ninth annual Ashland community chest drive bounded over the top Monday by a margin of $300 over the $26,000 goal set by officials, it was announced at a meeting last night.

At least 100 pledge cards remain to be tabulated and workers expect to finish the job tonight.

T. W. Miller, sr., president of the Faultless Rubber company, will sponsor a victory dinner for the 150 workers at the Ashland Country club within two weeks.

Contract Bar to Marriage?

"No marriage" clause in Tyrone Power's contract is all that's keeping the rising young screen actor from marrying Janet Gaynor, according to Hollywood reports. And if Tyrone can get that contract clause changed, the two will marry. Tyrone, it is said, is openly in love with Miss Gaynor, who, apparently, is not indifferent to his wooing.

FBI Would Assign Experts Here If Needed, Club Told

How the Mansfield police department has available the expert services of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, whenever needed, was explained in a talk by Police Chief Meade K. Bates at Tuesday's meeting of the Rotary club, at the Mansfield Leland hotel.

Chief Bates told of the wide scope of instruction he received while in attendance at the police training academy of the FBI, in Washington, D. C., for three months during the past summer.

Modern methods employed in the apprehension of criminals, and the thoroughness of work done in laboratories especially equipped for this purpose, were also explained.

A part of the obligation of police officers taking this course, it was disclosed, is that they are required to impart the information to other law enforcement officers in their own communities.

Chief Bates said that in the event of a major crime committed in this community the FBI will assign an expert to assist the local department in assembling and presenting evidence in court, and that this will be done without cost to the city or county.

HELD IN DEATHS

Driver of Car That Killed Two at Sullivan, Bound Over.

ASHLAND —Arraigned before Common Pleas Judge C. C. Chapman Monday afternoon on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dennis at Sullivan Saturday night, John Miskow, 23, Pittsfield, pleaded innocent and was held to the grand jury under $500 bond.

Miskow was the driver of an automobile which struck and killed the couple as they walked across the street to their home. Charges against Miskow were filed by relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis.

Miskow, a steel worker, was still in the Ashland county jail today, unable to furnish bond. His companion, John Quarandro of Lorain, was not held. Miskow said he failed to see the couple until his car was only a few feet from them.

Double funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Dennis were held today at the Sullivan Christian church.

WESTINGHOUSE HAS 'BEST YEAR'

Thanksgiving Proclamation to Employes Tells of Gains During 1937.

Employes and stockholders of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, including several thousand in the Mansfield area, were called on today to join in giving thanks for the "best year in Westinghouse history."

The Thanksgiving proclamation, issued from the East Pittsburgh offices of the company, appeared on bulletin boards today in all of the 22 Westinghouse plants and was included in reports mailed to stockholders.

"The Westinghouse company has prospered mightily during the year," the proclamation said. "It has employed more persons and paid higher wages than ever before in its history. It has paid more taxes toward the support of our government than ever before.

"Westinghouse is one of the few companies that has no gulf between the so-called workers and management. All are workers . . . therefore, we confidently call upon all employes, stockholders and customers of the company to join in sincere thanksgiving for the blessings which we have enjoyed this year."

The proclamation reached 53,000 employes and 44,000 stockholders.

Father of 8 Pleads Guilty In Shooting of Brother-In-Law.

LEBANON—(AP)—John Richards, 50-year-old WPA worker and father of eight children, was sentenced to one to twenty years in Ohio penitentiary today on his plea of guilty on a manslaughter charge in the death of Austin L. Hart, 39, his brother-in-law.

Hart was fatally shot Oct. 2 during an argument over Richards' daughter, 17.

Prosecuting Attorney C. Donald Dilatush consented to a guilty plea on manslaughter, however, and Judge Charles B. Dechant, in passing sentence, said he would not oppose a parole.
